For Immediate Release

York Region to host public information centres for updates to Transportation and Water / Wastewater Master Plans

Public invited to provide input into the Region's planning initiatives

NEWMARKET – The Regional Municipality of York is offering the first public consultation as part of the three series of public information centres (PICs) to allow the public the opportunity to provide input into updating the Region's Transportation Master Plan (TMP) and Water and Wastewater Master Plan (WWMP).

The master plans are being updated as part of the Region's Growth Management Plan, Planning for Tomorrow, to guide infrastructure needs for water, sewers, roads and transit for the next 30 years.

The PICs will offer a forum to review information, discuss issues and propose solutions to address future infrastructure needs and challenges, with an emphasis on sustainability.
