

NOTICE OF PRIVACY AND INFORMATION PRACTICES

The Health Services Department and Early Intervention Services of the Family and Children's Services Division of the Community Services and Housing Department of The Regional Municipality of York ("Early Intervention Services") recognize that protecting the privacy of your personal health information is an essential part of our commitment to quality service, programs and care. We believe our clients should know what personal health information we collect, how we use it, to whom we disclose it and how we protect it.

We are dedicated to collecting, using and disclosing your personal health information responsibly. We comply with the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004, the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, and all other applicable legislation. To learn more about our information practices, please consult our Privacy and Information Practices Policy or contact one of our Privacy Contact Persons listed below.

PERSONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

Personal health information is information in any form that identifies you and that relates to your health and health care including health history, health care programs and services, health care providers, substitute decision makers, health card number and other personal identification numbers.

YOUR CONSENT AND PERSONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

The Health Services Department and Early Intervention Services will only collect, use and disclose your personal health information with your consent or as required or permitted by law. You may change your mind and withdraw this consent at any time by providing notice to the Health Services Department or Early Intervention Services provided there are no legal requirements to prevent this.

For example, the Maple Health Centre and Newmarket Health Centre provide religious and spiritual care to interested residents and for this reason, may ask you about your religious or spiritual affiliation. If you are not interested in receiving religious and spiritual care, simply inform admissions staff and the Maple Health Centre and Newmarket Health Centre will not collect such information. You may change your mind about receiving or no longer receiving religious and spiritual care at any time by advising a member of your care team. For more information on consent and personal health information, please consult our Privacy and Information Practices Policy or contact one of our Privacy Contact Persons.

HOW WE COLLECT PERSONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

The Health Services Department and Early Intervention Services may collect personal health information directly from you or another person who may act on your behalf such as a substitute decision maker or a parent or legal guardian of a minor. We may also collect personal health information about you from other sources if your consent has been obtained or if the law permits or requires the collection.

WHY WE COLLECT PERSONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

The Health Services Department and Early Intervention Services may collect personal health information for:

- the provision or assisting in provision of health care
- planning or delivering health programs or services
- arranging referrals, providing supportive counseling and establishing interventions
- health protection, health promotion and awareness
- public health administration and monitoring
- administering and managing the health care system
- purposes related to the function of the Medical Officer of Health and Board of Health pursuant to the Health Protection and Promotion Act
- conducting research and compiling statistics
- fundraising
- purposes permitted or required by law
- compliance with legal and regulatory requirements

HOW WE USE PERSONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

The Health Services Department and Early Intervention Services may use personal health information for the purposes for which it is collected, as listed above, as well as for the purposes of maintaining or improving the quality and efficiency of health care rendered or health programs or services provided, for obtaining payment for health care rendered or related goods and services provided and for other uses permitted or required by law. To learn more about the purposes for which we use your personal health information, please consult our Privacy and Information Practices Policy or contact one of our Privacy Contact Persons.

WHEN DO WE DISCLOSE YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

The Health Services Department and Early Intervention Services will not disclose your personal health information with any external person or entity without your consent unless it is permitted or required by law. For example, we may share your personal health information without your consent:

- with health care professionals for the purpose of providing you health care when it is not reasonably possible to obtain your consent, for example you are seriously ill or mentally incapacitated,
- with public health authorities such as the Chief Medical Officer of Health and Medical Officers of Health,
- with a person carrying out an inspection or investigation authorized by a warrant or by law,
- where it is necessary to eliminate or reduce a significant risk of serious bodily harm,
- pursuant to a summons, subpoena or court order, and
- to the Children's Aid Society.

To learn more about the purposes for which we disclose your personal health information, please consult our Privacy and Information Practices Policy or contact one of our Privacy Contact Persons.

HOW WE PROTECT PERSONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

The Health Services Department and Early Intervention Services are committed to protecting the privacy, confidentiality and security of personal health information held in any form. We employ physical, organizational and technological safeguards to protect your personal health information against theft and loss, as well as unauthorized access, copying, modification, use, disclosure and disposal.

All staff that come into contact with your personal health information are aware of its sensitive nature and are trained in the appropriate use, disclosure and protection of your personal health information. Staff will ensure the amount and type of personal health information collected, used or disclosed is limited to that which is necessary to fulfill the purpose for which it was collected.

We also require organizations that perform services or provide programs on our behalf to protect the privacy of your personal health information and to use such information only for the purposes you have consented to or that are permitted or required by law.

Finally, subject to certain exceptions, the Health Services Department and Early Intervention Services will notify you at the first reasonable opportunity if your personal health information in our custody or control is stolen, lost or accessed by unauthorized persons.

YOUR RIGHTS

Under our Privacy and Information Practices Policy, you have the right to be informed about the purposes for which the Health Services Department and Early Intervention Services collects, uses and discloses your personal health information, as well as the right to:

- Request Access: You have the right to request and be granted access, subject to limited exceptions, to your own personal health information in the custody or control of the Health Services Department and Early Intervention Services by contacting the staff member from whom you received health care or health programs or services or by contacting one of our Privacy Contact Persons. You also have the right, subject to limited exceptions, to request and receive a photocopy of your personal health information at a minimal cost.

Requests for access to any other information in the custody or control of the Health Services Department or Early Intervention Services, other than your own personal health information, may be made under the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act through the Office of the Regional Clerk, 17250 Yonge Street, Newmarket, Ontario, L3Y 6Z1, (905) 830-4444.

- Request Correction: You have the right to request correction of your own personal health information if you believe it is incomplete or inaccurate by contacting one of our Privacy Contact Persons.
- Make Inquiries or Complaints: You have the right to direct questions, comments or complaints about our Privacy and Information Practices Policy or about alleged contraventions of the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004 to one of our Privacy Contact Persons. The Privacy Contact Persons will investigate any complaints and take action to resolve such complaints.
- Complain to the Information and Privacy Commissioner: You may also complain to the Ontario Information and Privacy Commissioner if you believe that we have contravened our Privacy and Information Practices Policy, or if you are not satisfied with the handling of your inquiry or complaint, the Ontario Information and Privacy Commissioner may be reached at:
