

York Region's Growth Management Initiative Phase 2 Public Engagement and Consultation 2007 Communications Strategy (Revised April 19, 2007())

Introduction

In Phase 2 of Planning for Tomorrow, The Regional Municipality of York's Growth Management initiative, the Region will consult with the public and stakeholders regarding the implications of growth scenarios.

BACKGROUND

In 2005, the Province of Ontario released a new population forecast for York Region. York Region is anticipated to grow as follows:

	2001	2006	2031	2006-31 Increase
Population	760,000	930,000	1.5 million	570,000
Jobs	385,000	455,000	801,000	346,000
Households	222,000	278,000	516,500	238,500

In related initiatives, the Province introduced new legislation that will help ensure the management of growth, the protection of important agricultural and natural heritage lands and an ongoing commitment to enhancing the quality of life in the GTA.

The Growth Plan

- Requires York Region and our local municipalities to accommodate 40 per cent of new growth through intensification of existing built up areas
- Requires regional centre densities not less than 200 people or jobs per hectare
- Requires new developments to meet densities not less than 50 people or jobs per hectare
- Focuses on developing urban centres supported by public transit corridors as the means of traveling within and between these growing centres

The Greenbelt Plan

- Preserves a permanent land reserve in south-central Ontario
- Permits only very limited new development outside of existing settlement areas
- Limits the fragmentation of agricultural lands
- Directs new growth and development to existing urban areas, towns and villages, in conjunction with the Growth Plan

CONTEXT

Creating strong, caring and safe communities is the vision of York Regional Council as detailed in Vision 2026. As part of the Growth Management initiatives, York Region has renewed its focus on sustainability that places priority on maintaining and improving our economic competitiveness, natural environment and healthy communities for the long-term benefit of residents.

  - begin to create public consensus on public policy decisions
  - help ensure decisions are evaluated against the triple bottom line sustainability principles of economic development, social equity and environmental value
3. Demonstrate to the public and stakeholders that the public engagement and consultations is inclusive and effective as a policy development process, helping York Region as a community respond to the issues and challenges in a manner that is most desirable.

KEY MESSAGES

- In the 25 years between 2006 and 2031, York Region's population will increase by approximately 570,000. Welcoming 570,000 more people is the same as adding the population of Aurora, Markham and Vaughan combined.
  - The provincial growth plan has forecast York Region's population to reach 1.5 million people by 2031. Also, York Region's employment will reach 801,000 by 2031.
  - To meet the province's 40 per cent intensification target, existing urban areas will have to accommodate approximately 85,000 more housing units – representing a populace about the size of the Town of Markham.
  - Substantial investment in new infrastructure and timely environmental approvals are required to build the city-region we have planned around our major centres and corridors.
  - Transit is a key element of intensification strategies, and York Region continues to expand York Region Transit and launched Viva Rapid Transit Phase 1 in September 2005.
  - Additional transit initiatives include Viva Rapid Transit Phase 2 that will introduce dedicated lanes for Viva vehicles and funding from all three levels of government for the expansion of the TTC Spadina subway into York Region to the City of Vaughan Corporate Centre.
  - An additional 570,000 more people will require greater investment in Human Services to ensure that York Region residents continue to enjoy a high quality of life. Immigrants in large numbers need to be welcomed and integrated into the social and economic fabric of our communities.
  - York Region is committed to a growth management plan and a sustainability strategy that are fully integrated with planning and development practices and procedures.
  - The sustainability strategy will provide a framework for making decisions about growth management that protects and maintains the economy, environment and community.
  - To conform with provincial policy and legislation, including the Places to Grow Act, the Greenbelt Act, the Oak Ridges Moraine Act, the Source Water Protection Act and the Provincial Policy Statement, York Region is required to amend its infrastructure master plans and natural heritage system plans –which will all be incorporated into York Region's Official Plan.
  - Throughout the amendment process, York Region will engage the public and involve all stakeholders from diverse disciplines in discussing concerns and options with the goal of obtaining effective and workable solutions.
