Community Housing at 62 Bayview Parkway

Thank you for your continued interest in the proposed redevelopment of 62 Bayview Parkway in the Town of Newmarket. York Region continues to plan for future community housing that will provide up to 250 homes.

As we move into the holiday season and get ready to wrap-up this year, we'd like to share some highlights from 2022. Your input, along with support from the community and our partners, has played an important part in this work.

Project Update

On location at 62 Bayview Parkway, the site is secured by fencing, the grounds are cleared and prepared for development. Behind the scenes, York Region is working to have the necessary plans in place so the project is ready for development when funding is secured.

York Region is pleased to announce that SvN Architects + Planners has been selected as the architectural firm to lead the design of the new development.

The project team is engaging with the Town of Newmarket, the Community Liaison Committee and close neighbours to refine plans and gather feedback. The focus for 2022 to 2023 is concept development, preparing planning applications and seeking funding.

The new year ahead presents many opportunities to build on the progress made so far.

Emergency and Transitional Housing Developments

In addition to building community housing, York Region is constructing new emergency and transitional housing developments. As winter begins, the need for emergency and transitional housing remains high in our communities, and many individuals and families struggle to secure safe and affordable housing.

To help people keep and find housing, York Region recently opened Passage House, an 18-unit transitional housing building for adult men in the Town of East Gwillimbury. The Bridge in the Town of Georgina provides duplex style housing units for youth and is nearing completion. Visit york.ca/RapidHousing for more information.
