QUICK GUIDE TO THE ONLINE HOUSING OFFER PROCESS

- How It Works

When you express interest in a unit, your name is added to the applicant list for that unit. The unit is offered to the highest-ranked applicant on York Region's subsidized housing waitlist, determined by application date. If you are the top interested applicant, the housing provider will contact you within seven business days after the cycle closes.

- Who Can View Vacancies

Only applicants with the earliest application dates and priority status on the wait list can view available units. You will be notified by mail or email when you become eligible.

- When Vacancies are Posted

New vacancies are posted every other Wednesday at 12:01 a.m.

If invited, you have until the following Wednesday at 11:59 p.m. to review available units and express interest.

- How You'll Be Notified

If you have signed up for email updates, you will receive an email when new vacancies are posted.. You can also log in to the online housing portal anytime to check for available units.

- Why You Might Not See Vacancies

If none of the available units match your household size or age requirements, the "Vacancies" button will not appear in the portal during that cycle.

- What Happens If You Refuse a Housing Offer?

If you decline a housing offer for a unit you have expressed interest in, it will be considered a refusal, and your application will be removed from the waitlist. If you are not ready to accept a housing offer, please avoid expressing interest in available units.
