DAILY COVID-19 UPDATE:
THE REGIONAL MUNICIPALITY OF YORK

SATURDAY, MAY 2, 2020 AS OF 4:00 P.M.

York Region Medical Officer of Health Dr. Karim Kurji provides an update related to COVID-19:

- 1,612 confirmed cases of COVID-19 in York Region (up 44 cases from May 1)
- 64 confirmed cases are currently hospitalized; 15 of which are in Intensive Care
- 86 cases among health care workers
- 722 resolved cases, which equals about 45%
- 39 institutional outbreaks under COVID-19 protocols
- 5 institutional outbreaks that have been declared over
- We regretfully report a total of 109 COVID-19 related fatalities to date. We extend our deepest condolences to the family and loved ones of these individuals.

This weekend, the sun will be shining and the spring warmth will be in the air, but remember the importance of physically distancing and staying home unless it’s for essential reasons, like grocery shopping. Physical distancing is helping slow the spread of COVID-19, so we all need to do our part for a while longer.

If you are feeling any symptoms of COVID-19 (fever, cough, shortness of breath) or are at greater risk of developing serious illness (70 years of age and above, immunocompromised), York Region Public Health asks you to please stay home and self-isolate. Additional information on seeking assessment at one of the three COVID-19 Assessment Centres in York Region is available at york.ca/covid19

The Regional Municipality of York applauds our local health care and front-line workers for their tireless commitment to supporting our community.
